

The FCC should enforce strict standards on broadcast content. Parents shouldn't have to worry that every time their children change the channel they may be bombarded with filthy language and pornographic images. If they are going to market cable to families then the FCC should set and strictly enforce standards just like they do on the airwaves. Cable is a very public medium and children are affected by the content. SET STRICT STANDARDS FOR CONTENT AND ENFORCE THEM STRICTLY!!